In 1950 there were 2 lovers, Inés and Diego. They really loved each other and were meeting everyday in a park of Toledo.

Don Pedro, the father of Inés knew that something was going on between each other.

One day Diego went to Pedro's office and asked him .

Diego: " I would really like to marry your daughter ! "

Pedro: "Okay, you have my permission "

Diego: " Thank you sir, I will take care of her "

(Diego left the office)

He came back to home and he was really happy about the decision but suddenly someone knocked the door and he opened it.

(There was a man, his boss)

Boss: " You have to pack your luggage and go to Ghana to work in a mine. "

He was shocked because he was going to miss his wedding .Later on he went to talk with Inés, that was in a church and told her:

Diego:“My boss told me that I have to go to work in another country and I will marry you when I will come back”.

And then Inés started to cry and while she was crying, she said: “If you think that this is the right thing to do, then go, but I will always wait for you, I will believe that our love will bring you back to me”

So Diego left the country.

A lot of years passed and finally Diego returned to his country, but during this time he has changed his opinion about Inés.

She was so upset that she decided to report him.

So she went to the judge to ask him if he could do something to get back Diego. The judge said: “to do this I need a witness, so do you have one ?”

Inés: “No, I don’t.....oh! I have one”

Judge:”Who is it?”

Inés:”He is the Christ of La Vega”

And so Inés, the Judge and other people went to the church to ask the Christ. When they arrived to the church the judge asked

Judge: “Did Diego promised to Inés to get married?”

After a moment of expectation and silence, the Christ lowered his hand and said:

Christ: “Yes, he did it”

All the people got shocked

After that, they decided to take their own way.
